

THE PORTAL TO TEXAS HISTORY

Embark on a Voyage of Discovery

<http://texashistory.unt.edu>

STATE NEWS.

San Marcos Free Press.

Near the head of Wallace's creek, in San Saba county, S. J. Neal and company found engraved on rocks erected for that purpose, records of a treaty held by the United States authorities with the Indians, Dec. 10, 1850. The Indians were the Comanches, Lipans, Caddoes, I-on-is, Anadacos, Yah-wah-comos and Wacos. Friendly Indians present: Delawares, Shawnees, Cherokees and Quapaws. Maj. H. W. Merrill, Company B, U. S. Dragoons, represented the United States; T. J. Ely and J. Delany, engravers. An interesting memento.